The Way It Was

[Photo caption] Homeless, this brother and sister search empty cans for morsels of food, and try to keep warm beside a small fire in the Seoul, Korea, railroad yards. November 17, 1950. PFC Fulton. (Army) At the time this photo was taken, winter winds were blowing southward from Siberia into Korea and temperatures would go far below zero. Hundreds of thousands of children died during the Korean War due to cold, starvation, disease, combat and other causes.
