Chargers Make Test Runs on the Former B&O

MARC's first two Charger locomotives supplied by Siemens made test runs during the week of January 15. On the first day the train ran from Baltimore down the former B&O to QN tower where it made the turn and headed out to Frederick and Brunswick, MD, and Martinsburg, WV, before returning to Brunswick. The train made all regular commuter train stops east of Brunswick, including here at Laurel. Photo and caption via Bob Kaplan
